Case Study: The Spa at Coworth Park

Technical

Multiple sources over multiple rooms combine with fire alarm and paging system interfacing, plus independent room controls integrating sound and light. Both dry and underwater speakers enable continuous enjoyment, through bathing, public and treatment areas.

Decorative issues and minimal ceiling voids in places meant installation of both 'plaster in' speakers and discrete ceiling speakers to achieve quality through innovation, driven by hard drives sources accessible across network and internet for upgrade and control. The Spa at Coworth Park strives for minimal carbon footprint "eco spa" so

UK companies were used and orders consolidated to minimise inbound carbon freight cost and remote access reduces the carbon footprint of future support.

Response

'The Spa at Coworth Park is all about an eco-luxury approach to relaxation and health affirmation, which we wanted to reflect, not only with the quality of our audio, but also sourcing. CGA Integration have demonstrated their in depth expertise, with not only a superlative system, but also incredible attention to low carbon sourcing and waste control. They should be proud that a behind the scenes system is so headline worthy.'
